COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

This valuable remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs has established a celebrity from its wonderful cures never equalled by any other medicine. Other preparations have gained their reputation and sometimes deceived the people, but this never has failed to fully won the confidence of every one who has ever taken it. After years of trial in every climate, the results have been equally wonderful. Where the disease is hereditary, or has fastened upon the system with such violence as to baffle the skill of the Physician, and set at defiance all other remedies, this has been found to act like a charm, and cases of the most alarming character have been entirely cured, that had been pronounced incurable by the most eminent Physicians.

THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1851.

Great Fire.

A fire broke out yesterday afternoon in the Steam Mill of Michael Schwartz occupied by himself as a grocery, and by Alonzo Barnard as a sash and blind factory. In a few minutes it was a sheet of flame and soon communicated fire to the barn of Dr Robert Knowles, thence to his large two story dwelling house occupied by himself and Mr A G Hunt. At the same time the fire communicated to a blacksmith shop and thence to two large buildings occupied by Messrs. Whitcher & Estes for their stock. From them the fire furiously spread sidewise by a high wind to a building house on Exchange street owned by J Jones, and occupied by a family, thence to a two story building occupied by Mr Cates, grocer, and by W J Lamb as painter thence to a blacksmith shop on Harlow street and to an old wooden building on East Market Place. At the north the large brick dwelling house opposite the Baptist Church was on fire and also the Hammatt Block of four three story tenements and the large one next below on Exchange street took fire.

All these buildings were entirely consumed and nearly a portion of the contents saved and that in a damaged state on account of the hurried manner in which it was accomplished.

The Universalist church was in great peril, but was saved by the almost strenuous efforts.

Arnold's Hansom livery stable was on fire from the roof, but was saved, and the shops of other buildings.

It was the most furious fire that ever raged in this city—owing to the combustible materials exposed and the high wind. The loss in buildings considering their number, is not so very large but the loss in machinery and materials is quite large, but exclusive of the present moment is not interesting, consisting of making estimate.

We learn that M Schwartz had insured on his steam mill $2000 in the People's Mutual Office Boston. W J Lawrence insured on his part of shop, $400. The Universalist Church insured for $1000. Damage $600. Dr Knowles and Mrs Joel Hills loss $2000. House partly insured. Joseph shop occupied by Abgail Otis of Boston. No insurance. L M Pitcher loss $ 00. W L H Fisher loss $100. Reeves, carver, loss $300. D L Hughes—partly insured, small and estimated had no insurance.

The occupants of the Hammatt Block all lost something but to what amount they have not ascertained. These occupants were Mrs Harding boarding house A P Swanton Mr Pagon J J Fletcher. The brick house is formerly if not now owned by Judge Hinckley of Thomaston.

One of the blacksmith shops burnt was owned by Solomon and occupied by A M Wingate and another by Mr Richardson.

A portion of the steam mill was occupied by Joseph Mullay as a wood turning and chair manufactory—Insured at the Howard Mutual Office Concord N H.

James C Whittier's loss very. No insurance.

The brick barn connected with the Hammatt Block was consumed about 10½ o'clock last evening. The dwelling house is unlingered—I insured at the Hancock Mutual Office I lose I shall not exceed $300 and this is the only loss of the occupants that is incurring the above.

Some 300 passengers were waiting for the Falcon to proceed to New Orleans. On the Pacific side, the passengers of the Gold Hunter were not permitted by the Spanish government to land at Tehuantepec owing, it is said to some difficulties from New York. Some 1,000 Spanish soldiers were arrived to prevent landing. Half of the passengers opted to land on the Panama the remainder left by the Isthmus conveyance.

There were earthquakes had been felt at Valparaiso threatening the inhabitants fearfully.

SPEECH OF HON. DANIEL WEBSTER.

Delivered on his reception at Albany, on Wednesday, May 28th.

Fellow Citizens—I owe the honor of this occasion as a Western man and not as a native of this State. In the city of Albany, and it is my first duty to express to the young men of the City of Albany my gratitude at having for the longest day have manifested to me. Nevertheless, however flattering such a reception is, and although you could not have given me a greater proof of your confidence and regard than you have, I am proud to take to myself what I may properly belong to me as an individual person and not as regards my public character. I know young men of Albany I am of the opinion that you town generous enough to extend to your fellow citizen—it is not but the institution of the Union which has held you and ancestors and all the people of your State together.

The recorded medical testimonials which accompany these remarkable remedies are ample testimonials to the value and efficacy of SANDS' SARSAPARILLA as a purifier of the blood and system and a positive cure for all diseases originating in impurity of the blood or derangement of the digestive organs. For many years has been in constant use in all parts of the country and the expedience of the public has proved that no other preparation ever attained its extensive and unbounded popularity throughout the world and been the means of so many truly astonishing cures of every variety of disease. Many of the most remarkable of these cures have been effected by the use of SANDS' SARSAPARILLA after the failure of the most skilful physicians and the exhibition of the usual remedies, and when the patient was considered by his friends and himself beyond the reach of human aid. Such cases are publicly known and need not be detailed here. Suffice it to say that the proprietors have in their possession certificates of these cures, many of which have been given unsolicited by persons who were well known to them, and whose statements are entitled to the fullest confidence. Many of these certificates have been published in pamphlet form, and may be had gratis of agents. Others have appeared in the public papers, and have excited general attention. Many eminent physicians have given their certificates to the value of this medicine, and have prescribed it in their practice. Clergymen, merchants, and others, well known in society, have voluntarily come forward and borne their testimony to the benefits they have derived from the use of this medicine.
